Your details and any changes

We need to ensure that the data that we hold about you is accurate and current. Please let us know if your personal data changes during your relationship with us.

Third Party Links

We sometimes provide you with links to other websites or mobile applications, but these websites and mobile applications are not under our control. We are only responsible for the privacy practices and security of Our Services. We are not responsible for the privacy policies, content or security of any linked websites or mobile applications. We recommend that you check the privacy and security policies of each and every website and mobile application that you visit.

In some instances, a third party may operate or host a competition on our website or mobile application, and collect your personal data. In those cases, where we are not the operator or host of the competition, we have no control over the personal data collected and accordingly urge you to review the third party's privacy policy before participating.

2. What data do we collect about you?

Personal data, or personal information, means any information about an individual from which that person can be identified. It does not include data where the identity has been removed (anonymous data).

We may collect, use, store and transfer different kinds of personal data about you which we have grouped together as follows. The examples of data given below under the different data types are non-exhaustive.

- Identity Data
 - first name, surname, date of birth, gender, location, or similar identifier;

- Miscellaneous: other personal data which you may disclose to us when you use Our Services or act as a Supplier at any time or which we may collect about you in the provision of Our Services or receipt of your services (for example, details of any incident in which you may be involved at an event or festival or complaints which you may report).

From time to time we may also collect and use Aggregated Data such as statistical or demographic data for any purpose. Aggregated Data may be derived from your personal data but is not considered personal data in law as this data does not directly reveal your identity. For example, we may aggregate your Usage Data to calculate the percentage of users accessing a specific website feature. We also aggregate Transaction Data based on ticket sales reports which we anonymise before use. However, if we combine or connect Aggregate Data with your personal data so that it can directly or indirectly identify you, we treat the combined data as personal data which will be used in accordance with this privacy notice.

The only Special Category of Personal Data we collect about you is information you provide to us about your health (for example when you are buying tickets for accessible spaces or when we are investigating an accident which may have happened at festival or event or informing us about your dietary requirements or informing us that you or a member of your party has tested positive for Covid-19 or you have been required to self-isolate as a result of Covid-19). As regards the Covid-19 information we require this for public interest in the areas of public health to prevent the transmission of Covid-19 are our festivals and events. We do not collect details about your race, ethnicity, religious or philosophical beliefs, sex life, sexual orientation, political opinions, trade union membership, genetic or biometric data. We only collect information about criminal convictions and offences in limited circumstances:-

- in respect of Suppliers or Partners who are working with children at our festivals or events;
- in order prevent or detect an unlawful act where it is necessary in connection with any legal proceedings or prospective legal proceedings, to obtain legal advice, or is otherwise necessary for the purposes of establishing, exercising or defending legal rights.

3. How is your personal data collected?

We use different methods to collect data from and about you including through:

- Direct Interactions: You may give us your personal data by filling in forms or by corresponding with us by post, phone, text message, email, social media, online, in person, by transacting with us through other methods of communication available from time to time. - Transaction Data from payment processing provider following processing of certain payments
- Identity Data, Transaction Data, Contact Data and Vehicle and Travel Information Data from artists agents in respect of the artists whom they represent.

We may combine any personal data about you that we receive from you and from third parties.

4. How do we use your personal data?

All personal data that we obtain about you will be used in accordance with current data protection law and this Privacy Policy. We, or third party data processors acting on our behalf, will only use your personal data in the following circumstances:-

- As necessary, to perform a contract with you, such as a contract to process an order from you for one or more of Our Services including, where applicable, carrying out fulfilment and delivery or to receive goods or services from you or to process an exchange or refund of your ticket in accordance with our booking terms and conditions.
- As necessary, to comply with a legal obligation, for the following purposes:
 - where you exercise your rights under data protection law and make requests; and
 - to comply with any legal obligation, any lawful request from government or law enforcement officials and as may be required to meet national security or law enforcement requirements or prevent illegal activity.
- As necessary, for our legitimate interests in operating our business and providing Our Services in a way that ensures they operate safely, securely and in a commercially suitable way which is tailored to your use and interests.
- As necessary to protect your vital interests or those of another person in a life or death situation.
- As necessary to perform a task in the public interest
- With your consent

Generally we do not rely on consent as a legal basis for processing your personal data other than in relation to sending direct marketing communications to you via email or text message or in relation to special categories of personal data such as health information which we process with your explicit consent. You have the right to withdraw consent at any time by contacting privacy@u-live.com.

We will not use any personal data which you provide to us or which we receive from third parties, including our ticket agents, to send direct marketing communications to you unless you have specifically consented to the same and the form of that consent meets all legal requirements.

With your explicit consent we process personal data about your health to provide you with tailored services such as disability and specific access services and to help us investigate an incident which may have happened at one of our events or festivals.

Promotional offers from us

We may use your Identity, Contact, Technical, Usage and Profile Data to form a view on what we think you may want or need, or what may be of interest to you.

You may receive marketing communications from us if you have opted in to receiving marketing when creating an account, buying a ticket for one of our festivals or events or other goods or services we may offer from time to time, requesting a corporate brochure, signing up to a newsletter, entering a competition or using any other of Our Services which contain a marketing opt-in that you select.

If you have opted in to receive marketing communications from us we will send you communications relating to the event or festival which you interacted with or requested to hear from. From time to time, if the Vivendi Live Group operates a similar festival or event or operates a festival or event in a similar location or operates a festival or event with a similar genre to the one you initially interacted with or requested to hear from we may send you details about that other festival or event. We will not share your data with the member of the Vivendi Live Group which operates or is the data controller in respect of that other festival or event for marketing purposes without your consent to do so.

Third party marketing

We will get your express opt-in consent before we share your personal data with any company outside of the Vivendi Live Group for marketing purposes.

Change of purpose

We will only use your personal data for the purposes for which we collected it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose. If you wish to receive an explanation as to how the processing for the new purpose is compatible with the original purpose, please contact privacy@u-live.com.

If we need to use your personal data for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and we will explain the legal basis which allows us to do so or request your consent to do so.

Please note that we may process your personal data without your knowledge or consent, in compliance with the above rules, where this is required or permitted by law.

5. How do we share your personal data?

We may share your personal data with other companies in the Vivendi Live Group where we are lawfully allowed to do so.

We will share those elements of your personal data with the data processors that help us to provide Our Services which are necessary for them to provide that help. These include:-

- ticket agents who sell tickets and gather customer data on our behalf;
- third parties who provide goods and/or services at our festivals and/or events which you have purchased or requested through us or our agents from time to time;
- email marketing and CRM system providers;
- online sales platform providers which we use to make direct sales to you;
- marketing agents who provide marketing services in relation to the festivals and events, these entities may sometimes also be our shareholders;
- providers of analytics tools;
- our email platform providers;
- our online document storage and cloud processing providers;
- third party contractors (including security and event staff) and the emergency services in relation to any incidents in which you may be involved in respect of which they may have been involved or have witnessed;
- third party Suppliers, Partners and members of our production team onsite at our festivals/events who may require Suppliers'/Partners' contact details for the safe and efficient operation of the festivals/events;
- event staff who operate the festival and event box offices, guest list and accreditation access lists;
- providers of document management systems and online document storage platforms;
- web hosting server providers;
- professional advisors including lawyers, business affairs consultants, bankers, auditors, insurance brokers and insurers who provide consultancy, banking, legal, business affairs, insurance and accounting services;

- providers of advertisement targeting services;
- our payment processors who may be based outside of the EEA;
- HM Revenue and Customs, regulators and other authorities who require reporting of processing activities in certain circumstances;
- our co-promoters, Suppliers and Partners, where necessary, so that they can help us to run the event for which tickets have been purchased, to fulfil the order, analyse customer behaviour, respond to queries and complaints, provide a better service and support to customers, and, with consent where required, for marketing;
- performers' visas and right to work documents may be shared with eth UKVI if requested;
- any externally appointed Data Protection Manager.

We will also disclose your personal data to third parties in the following circumstances:

- third parties to whom we may choose to sell, transfer or merge parts of our business or our assets. Alternatively, we may seek to acquire other businesses or merge with them. If a change happens to our business, then the new owners may use your personal data in the same way as set out in this privacy policy;
- if we or substantially all of our assets are acquired by a third party, in which case personal data held by us will be one of the transferred assets;
- if we are under a duty to disclose or share your personal data in order to comply with any legal obligation, any lawful request from government or law enforcement officials and as may be required to meet national security or law enforcement requirements or prevent illegal activity;
- in order to enforce or apply our Terms of Use or any other agreement or to respond to any claims, to protect our rights or the rights of a third party, to protect the safety of any person or to prevent any illegal activity; or
- to protect the rights, property, or safety of us, our customers or other persons. This may include exchanging personal data with other organisations for the purposes of fraud protection and credit risk reduction

We require all third parties to respect the security of your personal data and to treat it in accordance with the law. We do not allow our third-party service providers to use your personal data for their own purposes and only permit them to process your personal data for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions.

Save as expressly detailed above in this section, we will never share, sell or rent any of your personal data to any third party without notifying you and/or obtaining your consent.

Automated decision-making and profiling

Where you consent to your data being shared with us and used by us for marketing purposes we may combine any personal data about you that we receive from you, from other companies in the Vivendi Live Group, and from third-parties in order to create marketing profiles.

Marketing profiles include personal data such as information about Our Services you have used or purchased previously, information about when you have visited one of our festivals or events in the past or events you attended, demographic data and data from your social media profiles.

For example, we may analyse the personal data of people who have purchased tickets for a particular future Vivendi Live Group festival or event and then compare them with other people in our database. If we identify people in our database who have similar personal data to the original purchasers, if we have their consent to do so, we may then target marketing about that event to the people we have identified in our database, for example by sending direct marketing emails (where we have consent to do so). Alternatively, we may target people who live in a specific region and we will use your location data to create those profiles. We may conduct the profiling and send the direct marketing emails automatically but only where we have your consent to send you marketing communications.

We conduct these automated decision-making and profiling activities for our legitimate interests in providing Our Services and ensuring they operate for commercially viable purposes which are tailored to your use and interests.

We will ensure that the automated decision-making and profiling does not produce legal effects concerning you or similarly significantly affects you.

6. Where do we transfer your data?

Your personal data may be transferred to, and processed in a location outside of the UK/European Economic Area (EEA).

Many of our external third party processors are based outside of the UK/EEA so their processing of your personal data will involve a transfer outside the UK/EEA.

Some countries outside the UK/EEA do not have laws that protect your privacy rights as extensively as those in the United Kingdom. However, if we do transfer your personal data to other territories, we will put in place appropriate safeguards to ensure that your personal data are properly protected and processed only in accordance with this Privacy Policy and in accordance with all relevant laws which apply to the personal data of citizens within the UK/EEA. Those safeguards include imposing contractual obligations of adequacy or requiring the recipient to subscribe to or be certified with an 'international framework' of protection. You can obtain more information about the safeguards we put in place by contacting us at privacy@u-live.com.

7. How long do we keep your personal data?

We will only retain your personal data for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including the purposes of satisfying any legal, accounting or reporting requirements.

To determine the appropriate retention period for personal data we consider the amount, nature and sensitivity of the personal data, the potential risk of harm from unauthorised use or disclosure of your personal data, the purposes for which we process your personal data and whether we can achieve those purposes through other means, and the applicable legal requirements.

We will retain your personal data for longer if we believe we may need them in order to respond to any claims, to protect our rights or the rights of a third party, and we will retain your personal data for longer if we are required to retain them in order to comply with applicable laws.

We will always retain your personal data in accordance with data protection law and never retain your personal data for longer than is necessary. If you have any questions about our retention policy contact privacy@u-live.com.

8. How do we protect your personal data?

We have put in place appropriate security measures to prevent your personal data from being accidentally lost, used or accessed in an unauthorised way, altered or disclosed. In addition, we limit access to your personal data to those employees, agents, contractors and other third parties who have a business need to know. They will only process your personal data on our instructions and they are subject to a duty of confidentiality.

We have put in place procedures to deal with any suspected personal data breach and will notify you and any applicable regulator of a breach where we are legally required to do so.

We cannot guarantee the security of your personal data when you transmit it to us. For example, if you email us your personal data, you should be aware that email is not a secure transmission method. As such, you acknowledge and accept that we cannot guarantee the security of your personal data transmitted to us and that any such transmission is at your own risk. Once we have received your personal data, we will use strict procedures and security features to prevent unauthorised access.

Where we have given you (or where you have chosen) a password which enables you to access one of Our Services, you are responsible for keeping this password confidential. We ask you not to share a password with anyone.

9. What are your legal rights?

You may contact our Data Protection Manager by email at privacy@u-live.com at any time, to:

- request that we provide you with a copy of the personal data which we hold about you;
- request that we update any of your personal data which are inaccurate or incomplete;
- request that we delete any of your personal data which we are holding;
- request that we restrict the way that we process your personal data;
- request that we provide your personal data to you or a third-party provider of services in a structured, commonly-used and machine-readable format;
- object to us processing personal data based on our legitimate interests; or
- object to us processing your personal data for direct marketing purposes.

No fee usually required

You will not have to pay a fee to access your personal data (or to exercise any of the other rights). However, we may charge a reasonable fee if your request is clearly unfounded, repetitive or excessive. Alternatively, we may refuse to comply with your request in these circumstances.

What we may need from you

Your request must include your name, email address and postal address and we may request proof of your identity. Please allow at least seven working days for us to process your request.

We may need to request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and ensure your right to access your personal data (or to exercise any of your other rights). This is a security measure to ensure that personal data is not disclosed to any person who has no right to receive it. We may also contact you to ask you for further information in relation to your request to speed up our response.

Time limit to respond

We try to respond to all legitimate requests within one month. Occasionally it may take us longer than a month if your request is particularly complex or you have made a number of requests. In this case, we will notify you and keep you updated.

Objection to public interest/legitimate interest processing

Where you object to processing personal data based on public interest or legitimate interests we can continue to process such data if we can demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override your interests, rights and freedoms or where the processing is taking place for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

Withdrawing your consent

Where we are processing your personal data based on your consent, you may change your mind and withdraw your consent at any time.

You can withdraw your consent to receive marketing communications by clicking on the unsubscribe link in an email.

You can also withdraw your consent to receive marketing communications or any other consent you have previously provided to us by contacting us at privacy@u-live.com.

The consequence of you withdrawing consent might be that we cannot do certain things for you (e.g. continue to send you newsletters or meet you special access requests).

Cookies

You can set your browser to refuse all or some browser cookies, or to alert you when websites set or access cookies. If you disable or refuse cookies, please note that some parts of this website may become inaccessible or not function properly. For more information about the cookies we use, please see Cookie Policy.

We use cookies and web beacons on our websites. Third parties also view, edit, or set their own cookies or place web beacons on our websites. Cookies and web beacons allow us and third parties to distinguish you from other users of the website.

The use of these technologies by such third parties is subject to their own privacy policies and is not covered by this Privacy Policy, except as required by law

Right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority

You may also make a complaint to a supervisory authority for data protection matters. In the UK, this would be the UK Information Commissioner's Office <https://ico.org.uk>. If you live in another EEA country, you may complain to the supervisory authority in your country. Alternatively you may seek a remedy through local courts if you believe your rights have been breached.

Changes to our Privacy Policy

We reserve the right to change our Privacy Policy from time to time. Any such changes will be posted on this page so that we can keep you informed about how we process your personal data. We recommend that you consult this page frequently so that you are aware of our latest Privacy Policy and can update your preferences if necessary. Your continued use of Our Services shall constitute your acceptance of any revised Privacy Policy.

This Privacy Policy was last updated on 7 October 2022.
